It's nearly Christmas!

Gosh, where has the time gone? Things have been so hectic here. The team have been out and about around the Dales judging talent shows, switching on Christmas lights and opening shops. In the studio it has been just as busy with guests from Ilkley Grammar School, The Skipton and East Lancashire Railway Action Partnership (SELRAP) and local magician Mark Waddington doing magic live on air.

The weather has been a major focus for us just recently with the catastrophic flooding in Cumbria and lots of the local area under water too.

We thought we were going to have to evacuate the studio as Broughton Beck threatened to burst its banks and engulf the nearby businesses!

Our website still has lots of information about the ongoing problems around Cockermouth.

Fresh Visitors...

Mark Waddington, Skipton's local magician, popped in and amazed the Breakfast crew – not least by borrowing a £20 note from James Wilson - for his magic trick live on air!

Mark came in to tell the team about the Skipton Factor Variety Show he had organised.

The First Ilkley Science Festival took place on 14th and 15th November at Ilkley Grammar School.

The four girls, who have organised it to raise funds for their trip to Ecuador next year, came into the Fresh Studios to explain about the event.

Talks at the festival covered topics from psychology (Chocolate Addiction) through to engineering (How robots are being used in medicine).

Fresh News - What's been happening at Fresh!

Richmond's Got Talent

Julian from breakfast joined 3 other judges at The Georgian Theatre Royal, Richmond on 6 - 8 November to find out whether Richmond had got talent.

The answer was a resounding - YES! The theatre came alive to music, dance, poetry and other acts. It was a tough contest with 20 acts battling it out, chosen from the hundreds who attended the auditions.

The winner was Augus Johnston who took away the coveted trophy, supplied by show sponsors CJ Lightfoot Jewellers, £250 in cash, a photoshoot with award winning celebrity photographer Ian Meeson plus the chance to perform on stage next season!

Rolo Returns ... and has even sent us a card!

Fresh Pets, our new feature with Kingsway Vets, is proving hugely popular and successful. Steve Joy has been reuniting lost pets and their owners so much so that he's been nick-named 'The Pet Detective'!

Both on air and online we are reporting lost and found dogs, cats and even ferrets. But the best story to date is Rolo, who was missing in the Ilkley area but is now happily re-united with owner Tommi Townsend thanks to Fresh.

Fresh Giveaways

Christmas is a coming.....

Both Ingleton and Richmond enjoyed visits from the Fresh team as they celebrated the switch on of their Christmas lights.

Tim Finlay entertained the crowds in Richmond's Friary Gardens whilst Julian from Breakfast boogied in Ingleton with Fairies, Elves and Elvis (yes, that's right!) raising lots of money for the NSPCC.

But this was just the beginning -

There are lots more festive treats in store in December across the Dales including:

Skipton Yuletide Festival and Christmas Market on Sundays 6 and 13 December from 10am to 6pm on Skipton High Street, which will see Julian and the team joined on stage by Britain's Got Talent finalists Nemesis (6th Dec) and Elliot Evans (13th Dec).

Plus lots of chances to win Christmas goodies with 12 Days of Christmas with Craven Court Shopping Centre

Throughout December we have teamed up with Craven Court to give listeners the chance to sample the wonderful range of Christmas gifts on offer at the shopping centre.

Christmas Party for up to 100 people with Strata Nightclub.

Yes, an unbelievable opportunity for you to enjoy music, dancing and even a buffet with up to 100 of your friends at the fabulous Strata Nightclub in Skipton.

Keep listening to the Fresh radio team for more details of this on air competition early in December

Finally it just remains for me to wish you all from Julian and all at Fresh Radio
